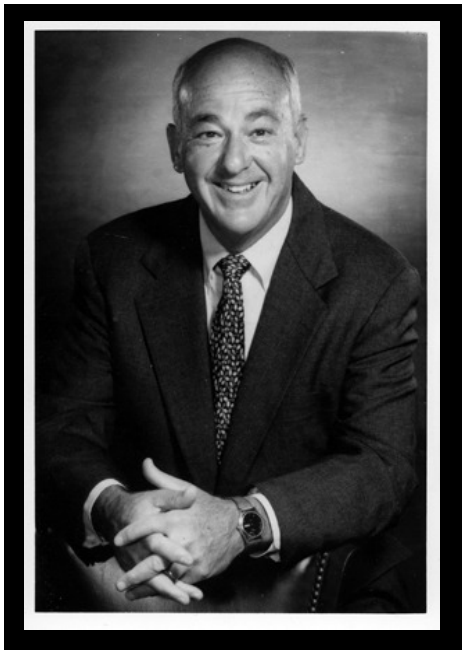
Nebraska Mass Fatality Seminar

Exploring the Role of Public Health and Public Safety



This free seminar will feature Dr. Cyril Wecht, America's leading forensic pathologist, and Capt. Dana Hall, ASPR-U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, providing timely insight into what a mass fatality response should look like and what areas need improvement. In order to prevent attacks, or contain the spread of disease or chemical exposure, the response must be rapid, organized and thorough for first responders, health care professionals, law enforcement agencies and government officials. A must attend event for anyone involved in public health and public safety.

Participant Objectives:

- Identify roles of multi-disciplinary teams
- Recognize divisional responsibilities
- Review lessons learned
- Explore ethical dilemmas
- Review complications of biological and chemical response
- Realize resources for recovery of human remains
- Learn Federal Disaster Mortuary Team capabilities and processes
