Check Permit Requirements Before Rebuilding
It is important for Nebraskans to check with local building authorities about local or state permits before starting reconstruction. These may include building permits, floodplain development permits, permits for repair of septic systems, and others. See NEMA guidelines here. To find out what state permits may be required, please visit dnr.nebraska.gov/floodplain.

Understanding Your FEMA Letter
If you applied for assistance from FEMA, you will receive a letter in the mail or via email that explains the status of your application and how to respond. It is important to read the letter carefully. Your letter will include the amount of any assistance FEMA may provide and information on the appropriate use of disaster assistance funds.

• If you have questions about the letter, you may go online to DisasterAssistance.gov; call the disaster assistance helpline at 800-621-3362 or 800-462-7585 (TTY).

FEMA Hires Nebraskans to Work on Disaster Recovery
FEMA is hiring Nebraskans to help with recovery efforts, go to www.USAJobs.gov. The website is updated regularly. Type “FEMA Local Hire” in the search box and “Nebraska” in the location box.

Keep your recovery options open with SBA low-interest loans
SBA loans provide the largest source of long-term federal disaster recovery funds for survivors in a major disaster declaration. By submitting an initial application with SBA, you will keep the option open to obtain recovery funds that you may need. Don’t wait for insurance claims to be settled; it is not necessary to know how much money you may need. There is no cost to apply, or any obligation to accept funds if approved.

If SBA is unable to offer you a loan, you may be referred back to FEMA for potential additional grant assistance. Survivors who’ve been referred for low-interest loans with SBA and don’t apply, will not be considered for these “other needs” grants from FEMA.

SBA has approved over $36.9 million in low-interest recovery loans for Nebraskans. $31.3 million for homeowners and renters and $5.6 million for businesses and private nonprofits, to date. SBA is also operating two Disaster Loan Outreach Centers to help homeowners, renters, businesses and nonprofits with face-to-face assistance to apply and to close their approved loans. The centers are in the Fremont City Auditorium, Community Room at 925 N Broad St, Fremont, NE 68025 in Dodge County, and at 3802 Raynor Parkway, Suite 201, Bellevue, NE 68123 in Sarpy County. Both centers are open 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Mondays – Fridays. No appointment necessary.

To apply online or for any questions, residents and businesses can visit SBA.gov/disaster, call SBA’s Customer Service Center at 800-659-2955, or email disastercustomerservice@sba.gov. TTY users may call 800-877-8339.

NFIP Increased Cost of Compliance Can Help with Rebuilding in Nebraska
If you have a policy with the NFIP and your home was damaged extensively by March storms, you may qualify for additional coverage under your policy, under the provisions of Increased Cost of Compliance (ICC). ICC funds can help defray the costs of elevating, floodproofing, demolishing or relocating a residence. INDIVIDUAL AND HOUSEHOLD ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Individual Assistance Program Deadline June 19

FEMA’s Individuals and Households Program (IHP) may provide financial and direct assistance for losses caused directly by the disaster that are not covered by insurance or another source, such as other agencies. By law, FEMA may not duplicate financial assistance received from another source. In addition, IHP is not a substitute for insurance and cannot cover all losses caused by a Presidentially-declared disaster; it is intended to help with emergency disaster recovery needs.

If you registered for disaster assistance, stay in touch with FEMA. Missing or outdated information, such as phone numbers or addresses, can delay help. The easiest way to update your application, check your status or provide missing information is to create an account.
