

ISOLATION AND QUARANTINE TRAINING

North Platte, NE / March 30, 2016

MORNING SESSION - 8:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

MGT 433: Isolation and Quarantine for Rural Communities

A management-level, instructor-led course designed to provide small, rural, and remote communities with the knowledge, skills, and abilities to effectively plan for and respond to events that require isolation and/or quarantine of their populations in a variety of low- and high-impact situations. This course serves as a primer for additional courses on this issue in discipline-specific areas.

Course Topics

- I&Q case studies and research
- I&Q trigger situations
- List of quarantinable diseases and corresponding signs and symptoms
- Levels of I&Q
- Necessity and effectiveness of non-pharmaceutical interventions

AFTERNOON SESSION - 1:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m.

PER 308: Rural Isolation and Quarantine for Public Health and Healthcare Professionals

This course expands on concepts introduced in MGT 433, and consists of two customized training modules specifically tailored toward course participants in the public health and medical fields. In this course, participants will become familiar with guidance that assists communities in planning for isolation and quarantine (I&Q), such as the National Response Plan and its implications in the healthcare community. Successfully completing MGT 433: Isolation & Quarantine for Rural Communities is a prerequisite for attending PER 308.
